Supranational Democracy

A dialogue among scholars, civil society and creative thinkers about global democratic solutions to global challenges.

1st edition

The University of Salento will host a two days event - the first of its kind - aimed at bringing together scholars (from any background) with NGO leaders, political activists, businessmen and all sort of innovative thinkers to discuss together the big challenges facing humanity.

The conference will run for two full days with thematic workshops spread across the city center, side events and networking gatherings.

All those willing to contribute are invited to send an abstract by February 10th 2018, addressing one of the following topics:

1. Managing migrations, protecting refugees;
2. Climate challenges and consequences;
3. Fair trade and development;
4. Impact of disruptive technologies-

Contributions are also welcome if they lay at the intersection of two or more topics (crossin-cutting themes as governance, inequality, transparency...) or if they have a wider focus and include a case study falling within one of the four topics listed above.

The ideal contribution is not just an analysis of the problem, but a proposal for addressing it democratically in some original or unconventional way, yet feasible.

Those who want to send a contribution but will not attend, could signal their intention by the deadline and send the final contribution as a poster. Posters will be displayed in the locations of workshops and events.

The abstract (max 500 words) , together with a bionote (max 300 words), may be sent at the e-mail address info@supranationaldemocracy.net

Register if you want to attend or just be informed about the final program at.... or by sending an e-mail to the same address.
